

How to “Go Into All the World and Proclaim the Good News to the Whole Creation” in the 21st Century

When Mark’s Gospel was written, there was no internet, Facebook or Twitter. Trading was done in marketplaces, not QVC, Amazon and Craig’s List. Communication was face to face, never by text, email or Skype. In the ancient world, answers took months. Today, we measure responses in nanoseconds. The command remains the same, but how we do it in the post-modern world is very different.

Learn how technology can help you get the Good News into the hands of those who need it most.

This “hands-on” class covers web sites and social media such as Facebook & Twitter. We’ll also show how to get church events promoted by local newspapers, television and radio. Plus we’ll cover other communication applications like podcasting, blogging and Skype.
